

OUR ISLAND CONTEMPORARIES

A man said to be pro-Hun has had his whiskers pulled. We know of several supposed pro-Huns around Honolulu whose mustachios offer first-class hand-holds for pugnacious patriots.—Star-Bulletin.

Delegate Possibilities

Both daily papers are becoming much worked up over the possibility that Mr. L. L. McCandless will seek the nomination as candidate for delegate at the coming party primaries. They take it for granted that he will run, although he has not as yet expressed his intentions in this matter. Alternately they cajole and pour cheap ridicule upon him, in the one case trying to jolly him into their way of thinking and in the other case trying to bluff him into keeping out of the race.

We have no means of knowing whether Mr. McCandless intends to enter the Delegateship contest this year; probably he will make his decision as to this when he has consulted with the leading members of the Democratic party, and has fully sized up the outlook. Most people, however, will wonder why these Republican papers are so deeply interested in seeking to prevent Mr. McCandless from again contesting the Delegateship. And the answer that will immediately suggest itself is that under the changing political conditions that now exist in this Territory, together with the bad odor into which Kuhio has fallen with many of his own people, there is an extremely strong probability that, on this occasion, if Mr. McCandless makes the race, he will be elected.

The injection of Dr. Raymond into the Delegateship is merely another of those hoary-whiskered tricks so often resorted to locally to create dissension and split the Democratic party into factions. Such efforts as these are very necessary on the part of "our friend the enemy," because never in the history of the local Democratic party has there been a more united and harmonious spirit in the party than at the present moment, and never have the members shown such an intense and unselfish desire to forget the individual and work only for the policies of the party, cutting out petty differences in favor of the larger good.

We venture to say if Mr. McCandless decides not to enter the contest for the delegateship on this occasion, he will give his wholehearted and undivided support to whomever may receive the nomination at the primaries in fact, that he will do to other Democrats as he would have other Democrats do to him.

The Democratic party deeply appreciates the tremendous financial sacrifices made by Mr. McCandless in carrying aloft the banner of Democracy in so many hard-fought contests. If he decides to enter the contest again, as we hope he will, it must be conceded, for the reasons above set forth, as well as for many others, that the balance of probability preponderates in his favor this time. With Mr. McCandless as our delegate we would have a real live wire at Washington, a man in sympathy with the Administration, and who for that reason would be able to secure enormous advantages denied to us now, because we are so sadly unrepresented or misrepresented, whichever you may wish to call it, by the present rubber-stamp incumbent of the office.—New Freedom.

Raymond Will Make Hot Race

If Dr. Raymond really becomes a candidate for delegate—the "if" is a large factor—he is a formidable opponent for Link McCandless to meet in the primaries, and if he gets the Democratic nomination he would give Kuhio perhaps the hardest fight the Republican delegate has had for six years. Dr. Raymond is a persevering campaigner and a combined Democracy would give him strong backing in the November election. McCandless could make a ten-strike for his party now if he would support Raymond at the primaries and thus send him into the November fight with no factional troubles, bred in the preliminaries, to prevent the Bourbons from putting all their strength behind their candidate.—Star-Bulletin.

Honolulu Milk Men Want More Money

New County Agents Wanted
Because A. H. Case, of Kauai and W. G. Moir, of East Hawaii are already in military service, and J. M. Watt, of Maui is expected to be called daily by the draft, Food Commissioner Child is on the lookout for suitable persons to take their places as county agents on their respective islands. Men with proper qualifications are said to be scarce.

Kuhio May Make Denial
Honolulu, June 30—Delegate Kuhio, who is to leave for Washington soon, has been asked to prepare and send to the national Capital a reply to the letter he received from John Lord O'Brien, assistant attorney general, in which the charge was made that there was persecution here of German aliens. He has been advised that such a reply should contain a rebuttal of the statements made, which are considered not only unjust, but untrue.

In line with this same action which it is hoped the Delegate will take, it is also hoped that Governor Charles McCarthy may be induced to take similar action in his official capacity.

Pacific Cable Breaks Two Months To Repair

Honolulu, June 29—The Pacific cable, linking the United States and Hawaii to the Orient, has parted at sea, somewhere near Guam. Local authorities were unable to announce at noon today just how long the break would interfere with transpacific communication, but no cablegrams can be guaranteed for two months. In the meantime messages to the Orient must be sent via San Francisco and New York all the way around the world. The traffic on such messages will be quite high, $2.09 per word.

No Ships For Hilo Run

Honolulu, June 29—The shipping board does not intend to send any of its vessels to Hilo, and methods to be followed in loading vessels at that port will be left to the discretion of the various shipping concerns, the board of harbor commissioners has been informed. Vessels which are despatched to Hilo will be under the direction of the various shipping concerns, the shipping board has announced.

Robley Pulled Whiskers And Called Law "Old Pro-Hun"

Honolulu, June 30—Written accusations have been filed with District Attorney S. C. Huber and the Hawaiian Vigilance Corps alleging that Robert Law, an insurance solicitor and a resident of Hawaii for more than 20 years, is unpatriotic and lacking in loyalty to the United States. The charges are contained in letters written by Glenn E. Jackson of the Y. M. C. A., based upon a written statement prepared by Samuel W. Robley, director of boys' club work in Honolulu, and handed to Floyd Emmans, business manager of the Y. M. C. A., and a member of the Vigilance Corps.

The Y. M. C. A. workers allege that Law sold German war bonds shortly before America declared war, and that he has acted in a disloyal way since. In the Y. M. C. A. cafeteria recently, Robley asserts that Law stated that the Red Cross spent 60 percent of its receipts in overhead. In the altercation which followed Robley pulled Law's whiskers and told him "to beat it, you old pro-Hun." The matter is being investigated. Law is claimed to be a Canadian. He declares he is strongly pro-Ally.

The alleged perjury is said to be in connection with Godwin's case and in form of an affidavit made by Brandt.

Four May Race For Delegateship
Joel C. Cohen, president of the Honolulu Amusement Co., has indicated that he may enter the race for the delegateship as a non-partisan against Dr. J. H. Raymond, an announced candidate, and Kalaniana'ole, provided the latter again seeks the office. While it is generally taken for granted that L. L. McCandless will also be a candidate, he has not yet announced himself, though it is reported from some democratic sources that he does not intend to run.
